Innovative Pain Relief

Rare Cannabinoid Company is best known for their Mood Gummies (tasty, mood-boosting edibles with THC, CBC, and CBD oils) and for creating the world's first THCv products (for energy and appetite suppression) and pure CBDV oil (for sociability, memory, and reduced irritability). They also offer a vast selection of customized rare cannabinoid gummies, tinctures, topicals, and Pet CBD.

The premium Hawaiian brand's new, weightless cooling gel contains a significant amount of three active cannabis/hemp compounds: 1000mg CBG oil, 1000mg CBD oil, and 400mg Delta-9-THC. This trio was specifically chosen for its unique effect in combating soreness and swelling.

In addition, the powerful pain cream includes arnica for inflammation as well as MSM, menthol, gotu kola, dandelion root extract, aloe vera, and more natural, vegan ingredients.

Rapid Relief for Soreness and Swelling

"Our Rapid Relief Gel should be applied directly to the skin in areas experiencing discomfort and soreness for cooling relief," said a company spokesperson. "The special, weightless formula is neither sticky nor oily and it has a mild, refreshing scent. This makes it ideal for use anytime – pre or post workout, before going out or going to bed," they added.

For added cooling, they recommend storing the bottle in the refrigerator. The gel also absorbs best when massaged into damp skin after a warm shower or bath.

Non-Psychoactive Pain Relief

It's important to note that the high level of Delta-9-THC in this CBD cream is excellent for pain relief, but, since it is applied to the skin, it does not have any psychoactive effects. It can be used by everyone from elite athletes to grandparents, without worrying they'll get high.

Unique Formulation

When looking at cannabis/hemp lotions, there are generally only two types available. Online and in regular stores, CBD creams mostly contain a CBD isolate in a base lotion. Meanwhile, in dispensaries, they contain a mix of CBD and THC oils. However, many products found in dispensaries still only have around 100mg THC and/or CBD.

Instead, Rare Cannabinoid Company has created a very specialized formula with 2400mg total cannabinoids – one of the most unique and interesting being the inclusion of CBG oil. Despite its high potency and inclusion of THC, this product is legal to sell outside a cannabis dispensary. This is because the CBG + CBD + THC Rapid Relief Gel is Farm Bill compliant. It contains less than 0.3% THC and the only THC in it is naturally derived Delta-9-THC from U.S. hemp plants.

Scientific Backing

There are more than 100 cannabinoids found in cannabis and hemp, and Rare Cannabinoid Company is the pioneer of creating special formulas that go beyond just CBD and THC.

Scientific studies have shown the effectiveness of CBD, THC, and CBG for pain and inflammation. For example, topical CBD has been found effective for arthritis pain and inflammation in animal studies and has shown significant decreases in pain for former professional athletes in human trials. THC has demonstrated twenty times the anti-inflammatory potency of aspirin, according to medical reviews, without the bleeding risks associated with NSAIDs. CBG, while less well-known, has shown even more potent analgesic and anti-inflammatory properties than THC in some studies.

Diverse Product Range

Rare Cannabinoid Company's products cover everything from THCv for energy, concentration, and appetite suppression, to Mood Gummies for blissful enjoyment, to CBN gummies for deep, restorative sleep. Their new THC + CBG + CBD cream can be used alongside their famous all-natural, vegan gummies for even more relief.
