

Praying With Plants

Welcome to “Praying With Plants,” a devotional & vulnerable journey where we explore the intricate dance of living in right relation with Earth, God, and humanity. In the tapestry of our culture, we peel back layers, connecting to the divine through nature’s whispers.

Picture an altar adorned with green companions—what if plants joined our prayer?

In this space, we bravely navigate the complexities of societal norms, questioning our relationships with visions, self, spirit, work and planet. Pondering the harmony between law, recent news, the arts, and the healing powers of plant medicines.
