

First NCBTMB Endorsed Cannabis Massage Course by Julie Bevel

A Groundbreaking Milestone: Julie Bevel Becomes the First to Offer NCBTMB-Endorsed Cannabis Massage Courses

ALGONQUIN, Ill., March 6, 2025 /PRNewswire/ — The field of massage therapy has witnessed a historic shift as the National Certification Board for Therapeutic Massage and Bodywork (NCBTMB) has officially recognized cannabis-related education for Licensed Massage Therapists. This move marks a significant departure from past policies, as previous submissions for cannabis-based coursework had been denied.

Recognizing the increasing demand for specialized education in this area, NCBTMB has now set new standards for training and certification. Leading the way, Approved Provider Julie Bevel has become the first educator in the nation to offer cannabis-related certification courses through her company, Spa Pro. These newly accredited courses—Endocannabinoid System (2 CE credits) and CBD Massage (6 CE credits)—allow students to obtain official certification in cannabis education and CBD massage therapies, unlocking new therapeutic approaches and professional opportunities.

Julie Bevel's Leadership in Cannabis Massage Education and Industry Advancement

Julie Bevel, founder of Spa Pro, has been a dedicated advocate for medical marijuana and professional massage therapy education. With over 25 years of experience as a Licensed Massage Therapist—including serving as Lead Therapist at the 5-star Bellagio Spa in Las Vegas and establishing the award-winning Fox River MedSpa—Julie has continuously innovated in the wellness space.

Her expertise in therapeutic wellness has now culminated in a curriculum that empowers massage therapists to confidently integrate cannabis-based therapies into their practices. By securing NCBTMB's endorsement, Bevel is not only expanding opportunities for massage professionals but also shaping the future of cannabis integration in the wellness industry.

Setting a New Standard in the Integration of Cannabis and Massage Therapy

With the growing acceptance of cannabis as a wellness solution, Spa Pro has positioned itself at the forefront of industry education, offering Continuing Education (CE) credits for high-demand cannabis-based therapeutic services. The NCBTMB credentialing of these courses represents a significant milestone for the massage therapy industry, bridging the gap between traditional wellness practices and emerging cannabis applications.
